Further clarification is required regarding: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The reasons the daily electricity generations on 16-17 December 2006 are above the maximum generating capacity of the plant. 2. How the DOE verified the net electricity generation in October-December 2006 while only partial data was obtained during this period and according to the verification report it “only will be verified until 15 March 2007 when PPA begins.” 3. How the DOE verified net electricity generation for January 2007 in the “generation certificate” issued by the grid company while the verification report stated that “there is no evidence of January’s dispatched trial electricity.”
