A decision of the EB, i.e., paragraph 24./EB20 taken on July 6-8 2005 (the PDD ver. Aug. 5 2005 was published by the validating DOE on Sep 8th 2005), established that for prompt start projects such as this one, "when ex ante or ex post options for the calculation of the baseline emissions are allowed, the ex post option should be selected." It appears therefore that both OM and BM should have been included in the monitoring plan as quantities to be computed ex post each year, rather than being fixed ex ante, and that therefore they should have been recalculated ex post in the current monitoring report as well. In the course of this appraisal the PDD was found to be not transparent with respect to issues relating to additionality, in relation to both step 0 (no actual documents were produced showing that CDM income had been considered during its planning phase) and calculations indicating financial barriers, which cannot be reproduced by a reader.
