<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The methane content data in the spreadsheet appears to have been calculated. However, the methodology requires continuous measurement of this parameter. Clarification is required. 2. Further, the methane gas analyser was shut down for some days in October, November 2006 and January - March 2007 due to air filters clogging and gas analyser failure. Further clarification is required regarding how the DOE verified the accuracy of methane content data during the shut down periods.
