Reasons for request:

The project proponents and DOE should clarify the consistency in the use of the latest tools for the demonstration and assessment of additionality/Version 02 (28 Nov. 2005) as in identifying the technological barrier they state that the proposed project will use larger turbines than those commonly used in China, while in the common practice analysis it is stated that within the Nord China grid the wind farm capacity in 2004 accounted only 0.142% of the total installed capacity, and it has reached the 0.05% of actual supply to the North China Grid. (See Validation Report, pages 12 and 13)

They should also clarify which is the current percentage of wind energy provided to the North China Grid today rather than in 2004.

In addition, clarification is needed about what is the meaning of “possible” in this statement made by DOE: “Consequently, it’s possible to conclude that wind farm activities are not common within the Shandong Province;”. (See Validation Report, page 13)
