1. The DOE verified power generation data from two sources. However, the verification report does not mention how the two data were compared and which data was confirmed for the purpose of calculating emission reductions. Further, the DOE mentioned that, "the invoices are not used for the purpose of CER calculation because there was agreed a fixed monthly energy value." This is not in line with the monitoring plan, which requires the amount of electricity supplied to the grid should be confirmed with the invoices issues by CENAEEL. Further clarification is required. 2. If the generation data is being used instead of the net electricity supplied to the grid, clarification is required of how the transmission losses and the power consumption for the wind farm have been accounted.
