Section below to be filled in by UNFCCC secretariat

This project activity uses AMS II D which is a generic methodology for energy efficiency. Vikram Cement was the project participant that submitted large scale methodologies NM0101 and NM0154 for energy efficiency in clinker cooler, both of which were given a C by the Meth Panel. It should be assessed whether AMS II D is correctly applied to this project.

As this is not the first time this issue comes up, the Board may wish to ask the SSWG to review whether the concerns expressed by the Meth Panel with respect to the above not approved large scale methodologies need to be addressed by AMS IID.
