The DOE is requested to clarify how it assessed the correctness of applying a default value for the parameter DOC<sub>f</sub> considering the requirement related to this parameter as per the applied Methodological Tool "Emissions from solid waste disposal sites" (Table 2). The submitted PDD defines a default value of 0.5 (page 39), which according to the applied tool is only applicable in the case of municipal solid waste (MSW). The DOE verified that the residues used at the project site fall in the definition of residual waste and for these the applied tool stipulates that the Parameter DOC<sub>f</sub> shall be estimated once for the applicable crediting period.
